

Time is of the essence to maximize savings in complex business litigation. Based upon our experience working with numerous national coordinating counsel firms during the past 15 years, the lawyers and paralegals of Womble Carlyle's Case Management Facility (CMF) can:

Assess

- Standardize early case assessment process, and categorize cases and plaintiffs for risk assessment
- Quantify the number of plaintiffs represented by the same counsel and measure exposure by alleged harm—for example, personal injury, economic loss, shareholder derivative action, government investigations
- Predict costs by various measures, including region, counsel, discovery deadlines, and statutes of limitation

Augment

- Serve as a resource, working for in-house counsel and alongside national coordinating counsel firm(s)
- Maximize efficiencies afforded by coordinated proceedings, e.g., direct service of process to CMF, guarantee the coordinating court is timely notified of tag-along matters
- Monitor class allegations and certification status
- Control access to materials as appropriate
- Assure company witness preparation and testimony is focused and controlled

Centralize

- Tell you what business-critical litigation information to track and when
- Provide online internet-based access to information, materials, and work product you and your lawyers need
- Run standard and customized reports
 - Answer questions about the number of cases, the type, the status, the jurisdiction
 - House all exhibit-related information and provide prior use history so that exhibit use is consistent
 - Extract key issue testimony across transcripts and witness type
- Ensure consistent answers/responses to pleadings/discovery and generate templates for routine filings

We are confident that you will appreciate the benefits of our value-leveraged legal services and our willingness to investigate alternative fee arrangements. For more information, please visit www.wcsr.com/cmf.
